

ALMOST HALF STATES TAXES NEWLY LEVIED

Figures Show That 42 Per Cent Of Taxes Since State-hood Are Levied in Last 5 Years

PER CAPITA COST JUMPS

Per Capita Tax Doubles in Last Five Years Under the Enormous Increase

Nearly one-half of the taxes levied in the State of North Dakota during the 31 years of statehood have been levied in the last five years, according to statistics of the office of the state tax commissioner.

Taxes amounting to $145,380,707 have been levied since 1917 or 42.73 per cent of the total tax burden since statehood while $194,299,005, or 57.27 per cent was incurred prior to 1917.

A remarkable increase in the tax burden since North Dakota became a state in 1889 is shown by the compilations.

From 1890 to 1899 inclusive, tax levies amounted to $126,190,356. During the ten year period—1900 to 1909 inclusive—taxes amounted to $159,583,145. During the six year period—1910 to 1916 inclusive—total taxes amounted to $89,684,536 and during the last five years total tax levies have amounted to $128,050,822.

How They Jumped
Total taxes levied between 1890 and 1916 inclusive amounted to $172,758,040 and during the five year period—1917 to 1921 inclusive—total tax levies have amounted to $128,050,822. Of the total taxes levied in the state in the 31-year period since statehood, 42.73 per cent has been levied in the last five years, while 57.27 per cent was levied in the 26-year period prior to 1917.

Including all special state tax collections, fees and license collections and interest and income collections from endowment state-hood amounts to $339,579,712. A total of $194,299,005 or 57.22 per cent was incurred prior to 1917 and $145,380,707, or 42.78 per cent has been incurred in the last five years.

The per capita general property tax burden of the state decreased from $11.94 in 1890 to $9.96 in 1899 and gradually increased from then to 1910 when it amounted to $16.07, an increase of 61 per cent in 11 years. Between 1910 and 1916 it increased 54.4 per cent bringing the per capita burden up to $24.51.

From that time the increase became very rapid as is shown by the following table:

Year	Per Capita General Property Tax Levies State and Local
1916	$24.51
1917	28.12
1918	31.91
1919	43.68
1920	46.22
1921	48.57

Per capita general property tax levies increased 93.3 per cent between 1916 and 1921, the increase amounting to $23.76 for each man, woman and child in the state. The increase amounts to more than the total per capita tax levies in many states.

Between 1890 and 1910 the population of the state increased 202 per cent and tax levies increased 302 per cent. Between 1910 and 1921 the population increased approximately 12 per cent and tax levies increased 239 per cent. A comparative statement of population and tax levies for certain years is given herewith:

Year	Population	State and Local Tax Levies
1890	190,993	2,281,223
1900	319,146	3,288,710
1910	577,056	9,271,684
1920	638,994	15,352,581
1921	646,872	31,422,054

Statistics in the office of the tax commissioner believe that there are many factors entering into the remarkable increase in the last five years, in which they include failure of state and local subdivisions to limit expenditures, expansion of governmental activities during a period of high prices, consolidated schools, extensive road building, lack of publicity in regard to public finances and the consequent public pressure for economy, also inefficient handling of public finances and governmental activities.

The state industries, with interest on bond issues, direct appropriations, and "new-fangled" legislation are among the causes of the increase.

The enormously increased tax burdens are more inequitably distributed than ever before in the history of the state, they declare.

F. H. CARPENTER MANAGERS HERE FOR CONFERENCE

F. H. Carpenter, of Minneapolis, president of the F. H. Carpenter Lumber company, which operates extensively in North Dakota, is in Bismarck for a study of business conditions in this section of the state and a conference with John A. Larson, superintendent, and local managers of the North Dakota yards. Mr. Carpenter was accompanied by S. B. Boyesen, of the company. All North Dakota managers were present in this city for a conference with Mr. Carpenter and Mr. Boyesen.

Mr. Carpenter reported that an immense amount of building is under way in Minneapolis and St. Paul this year.

WASHINGTON WILL DEDICATE ON MAY 30 MEMORIAL TO LINCOLN

By NEA Service
Washington, May 25.—The $3,000,000 Lincoln Memorial, pictured above, is to be dedicated here on May 30. Henry Bacon, New York architect, designed it. The most important feature is the statue of Lincoln in marble, by Daniel Chester French of New York.

Other features are a memorial of Lincoln's Gettysburg address, a memorial of his second inaugural address, and a symbol of the Union of the United States.

The Lincoln memorial stands in Potomac Park, facing the Washington monument. Construction was begun on Lincoln's birthday in 1914.

WHITE PEOPLE BELIEVE NEGRO'S ESCAPE IS ACT OF PROVIDENCE

Plan to Ask Governor of Georgia To Commute Sentence to Hang to Life Imprisonment After Jim Denson Makes His Escape from Mob and Is Now Safe in 'Mob-Proof Jail'

Macon, Ga., May 25.—Jim Denson, negro youth, whose appeal from a death sentence was carried without avail to the supreme court of the United States and who only this week narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of a mob, was safe today in Bibb county "mob proof jail."

"I see how mighty proud to be here," was Jim's smiling comment, even though the sentence to hang June 16 for an alleged attack on an aged white woman three years ago still stares him in the face.

Jim, however, had some reason to smile beyond his escape from the mob, because numerous white people in this and Wilkinson county believing his escape an act of Providence were considering an appeal to Governor Harpwick for commutation to life imprisonment.

The negro told the story of his escape, which in addition to the details of the mob's action in breaking into the jail at Irwinton early Tuesday ran as follows:

"They tied a rope around my neck. Then they dragged me into an automobile. I asked them to let me pray and they replied they hadn't time. 'I heard them say they would shoot me just out of town. The knot on the rope around my neck was creaking. I reached up one hand in the dark and felt the slip knot. I untied it. The automobile was going 30 miles an hour and I saw myself. 'Jim jump or be killed.' I jumped feet first and I hit the ground first on my feet and then on my head—and flopped into a ditch."

The negro described his sojourn of a night and a day in a swamp. He crawled out to get some wild plums and heard the bloodhounds after him. He ran, but couldn't get away, so he snatched his fingers at the leading hound who came up and made friends. When captured he had the dog tied to himself, was playing with another and at the same time was trying to shoot off still another less friendly.

ANTI-LYNCHING BILL PUT OFF

Washington, May 25.—Unable to reach a decision on the house anti-lynching bill the senate judiciary committee today decided to postpone action for two weeks to give time for consultation with house leaders.

Washington, May 25.—Plans for establishment of special harvest labor employment offices by the United States Department of Labor at Fargo, Minn., Oakes, Devils Lake, Grand Forks and Bismarck are announced by George Tucker, field representative of the farm labor bureau of the labor department. These offices purely temporary in nature will take care of the emergency needs of the state during the harvest season. The placing of

LAUDER NOT TO BE CANDIDATE FOR U. S. SENATE

Wahpeton Lawyer in City on Business Says He Will Not Get Into the Race

NORTON SAYS HE'LL STICK

Line-up Now Appears to Be Four Candidates for G. O. P. Nomination for Senator

Judge W. S. Lauder, of Wahpeton, in Bismarck on legal business, said in answer to questions put by a newspaper man that he would not be a candidate in the Republican primary for the nomination for United States Senator.

Judge Lauder declined to amplify his statement or give reasons for his decision. Recently he said that he was considering the matter.

P. D. Norton, of Mandan, also in the city on legal business, declared positively that he would be a candidate in the primary. The last day for filing petitions is on May 29.

Judge A. M. Christianson, who has been strongly importuned to make the race for United States Senator, will not be a candidate.

Ormsby McHarg, of Jamestown, formally announced yesterday that he would be a candidate.

While the time for filing petitions does not end until Monday night it appeared today that the line-up for the senatorial nomination on the Republican side will be Senator McCumber, former Governor Frazier, P. D. Norton and Ormsby McHarg.

Of the number of candidates who are considered in the race, or have been considered in the race for the sole purpose of beating Senator McCumber, McHarg perhaps has drawn more fire than others.

The Valley City Times-Record stating it had been informed Mr. Norton would not be a candidate, continues: "But Ormsby McHarg has decided that he is the Moses that can lead the children of North Dakota out of the wilderness and he has decided to stick in the race unto the end. This is bad judgment on the part of Mr. McHarg, because he hasn't a chance in the world of landing the nomination and his remaining in the race is only going to gum up the issues to the extent that whatever votes Ormsby may get will enhance the candidacy of Frazier—in our judgment."

Whether Senator McCumber will be able to make much of a speaking campaign appears a matter of doubt. He is in charge of the administration tariff bill, and has been striving to keep senators to the task of finally framing the measure.

League headquarters have announced a speaking tour for former Governor Frazier.

Petitions for league candidates were filed with the secretary of state today. They included petitions for Lynn J. Frazier for senator, but no candidate for superintendent of public instruction.

Petitions placing Governor Nestos and others on the ticket endorsed at Jamestown also were filed.

MAY CHANGE SENATE RULE

Senators Plan to Shut off Unlimited Debate

Washington, May 25.—A movement said to have the backing of a large number of senators to change the ancient senate rules permitting unlimited debate was initiated today at a conference of Republican senators.

Republican senate leaders planned today to impress forcibly again on the rank and file of their membership the necessity of attendance at the senate sessions while the tariff bill is under consideration.

Again last night there was difficulty in obtaining a quorum with the result that the senate machinery was halted for nearly an hour.

U. S. DEPARTMENT READY TO BEGIN NEGOTIATIONS WITH CANADA FOR GREAT LAKES WATERWAY PROJECT

LIQUOR TRAFFIC DEALT HEAVY BLOWS IN NORTH DAKOTA, WATKINS ASSERTS

Fargo, May 25.—Prohibition laws are enforced in North Dakota perhaps better than in any other state, F. L. Watkins, secretary of the state enforcement league, declared in his annual report for delivery this afternoon as the organization opened a two-day session here.

"I estimate that the number of stills decreased 30 percent in 1921, and reduced to a minimum in 1921, running which reached its height in 1920 was practically broken and reduced to a minimum in 1921."

Present reports indicate that many whiskey runners are going out through North Dakota but few are coming back through the state.

"There is no backward step on the liquor question," the report declared. "There is a lot of whining and considerable noise by comparatively few people, it adds, but declares that 'the howl about the infringement of personal liberty indicates that the 18th amendment is becoming effective.'"

DEFENSE RESTS IN MINER'S TRIAL

Charlestown, W. Va., (By the A. P.)—The defense rested its case this morning in the trial of William Blizard, charged with treason after three witnesses had testified briefly. Rebuttal was begun immediately after the prosecution.

BRIGHT FUTURE FOR BUSINESS SEEN BY DAVIS

Unemployment Gloom Is Being Chased Away, Secretary of Labor Asserts

Washington, May 25.—A picture of steadily reviving business activities throughout the country is drawn by Secretary Davis in a statement today based on reports of employment conditions, to the department of labor. The report indicates that unemployment has been "practically eliminated" in New York state. The secretary said that it has been reduced more than 50 per cent in the last three months in Pennsylvania "while the swan song of business depression has given way to an improved note of industrial activity" in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri.

There is unmistakable evidence of improved industrial conditions prevailing on the Pacific coast, Mr. Davis said, while in the south reports show steady improvement.

RAIL LEADERS PROTEST CUT

One of Them in Chicago Declares It Is Hard Blow

Chicago, May 25.—Officials of several roads centering here today expressed belief that the freight rate cut made yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington would result disastrously for the roads.

"I can hardly believe it," said one commenting on the cut.

REDUCTION IN RATES

The reduction in rail freight rates ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission will mean a great saving to shippers of North Dakota, according to Frank Millhollan, chairman of the state railroad commission.

CONTRACT IS HELD INVALID

Daugherty Rules in Muscles Shoals Case

Washington, May 25.—(By the Associated Press)—An opinion by Attorney-General Daugherty submitted to Secretary Weeks and forwarded to the house military committee holds that the contract executed by the government with the Alabama Power Company "is invalid" with respect to the publication which the power company officials contend gives them the right of exclusive use of the government interest in the steam power plant at Gorgas, Alabama. The contract negotiated by the War Department with the Air Nitrate corporation of New York, a subsidiary of the American cyanide company under which nitrate plant No. 2 was constructed at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, also is held "invalid" by the Attorney-General with regard to the option of exclusive purchase claimed by the corporation in the event the plant ever is disposed of by the government to private enterprises.

RATE HOLIDAY IS PROPOSED

Washington, May 25.—Declaration of a railroad rate holiday—during which railroads could make their own rates without government restriction—was suggested today at the treasury as a possible solution of the nation's transportation problem.

The belief was expressed that if railroads could make their rates to meet varying conditions in various parts of the country somewhat on the basis of what the traffic could bear, better railroad service and greatly improved industrial and commercial conditions would result.

State Department Announces it Had Sent Note Through British Ambassador Stating U. S. Is Ready to Confer on Project

REPLY NOT RECEIVED

Answer Is Lacking From Canadian Authorities on the Subject, Says State Department Announcement Today

Washington, May 25.—The state department today announced that it had communicated to the Canadian government its willingness to begin negotiations with the St. Lawrence canal project to permit ocean going vessels to reach the Great Lakes. No answer has yet been received from the Canadian government.

Secretary Hughes dispatched his note on the subject May 17 to the British ambassador who is understood at the state department to have forwarded the communication promptly to the Canadian government.

The note, the department announcement said, "that the United States government would be glad to take up with the Canadian government the negotiation of a treaty looking to the deepening of the waterways which would enable ocean-going ships to reach the Great Lakes."

COMMENCEMENT OF ST. ALEXIUS TO BE SATURDAY

Graduation Exercises Will Be Held in The City Auditorium

Graduation exercises of St. Alexius hospital training school will be held in the city auditorium Saturday night, May 27, at 8:15. The general public is invited to attend the exercises held in honor of the nurses graduating from the training school. Governor R. A. Nestos will deliver the commencement address. The program is as follows:

Selection—St. Mary's Orchestra. Vocal Solo—Frank L. Gale. Address—The Graduates—Governor R. A. Nestos.

Vocal Solo—Henry Halverson. Address and Conferring of Diplomas, Rt. Rev. Bishop Wertheimer. Piano Solo—Mrs. Arthur Bauer.

Selection—St. Mary's Orchestra. A reception will be held at St. Alexius parlors after the program.

CITIZENSHIP DAYS ARE SET

Judge Nuesse to Conduct Them in Three Towns

Many foreigners will be applicants for citizenship at hearings to be conducted by Judge W. L. Nuesse in three towns in the near future. The first hearing will be held at Bismarck June 1, the second in Bismarck June 3, at Steele June 3.

Judge Nuesse has called a special jury term for Kidder county to begin June 3, the jury being called for June 5. The regular Burleigh county jury term will be continued over one week on account of this. It was necessary to call the special term in Kidder because the Kidder and McLean county regular terms fell on the same date.

PITCHER HURT BY BATTED BALL

Philadelphia, May 25.—Wilbur Hubbell, pitcher, was severely injured in the first inning of the first game between Philadelphia and Brooklyn today when he was struck on the head by a ball batted by T. Griffith, of Brooklyn. The Philadelphia twirler was rushed to a hospital where it was said he had concussion of the brain and a probable fracture of the skull.

THREE SOLDIERS ARE KILLED

Fayetteville, N. C., May 25.—Three enlisted men were killed and three men and one officer wounded today when a projectile struck a tree and exploded prematurely during target practice on the Camp Bragg range. Capt. M. A. Dawson was the officer wounded. All victims were members of Battery E, Fifth field artillery.

Los Angeles, Calif., May 25.—Men will predominate on the jury in the second trial of Mrs. Madayene Ober, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy if the panel ratio is maintained in the election of the jury. Of the panel of 200 drawn yesterday 137 were men and 63 were women. The trial is set to begin June 5.

HARD JOB TO ENTER PARTY OF COMMUNISTS

As Difficult as Trying to Gain Entrance to Most Exclusive American Clubs

CUTS DOWN MEMBERSHIP

Moscow, May 24.—The Communist party—the proletarian oligarchy which controls the Russian Soviet government—is becoming more and more a closed corporation, as difficult of entrance as the most exclusive American club, or the higher degrees of the most secret lodges.

The party was reduced last year to about 500,000 members by a rigid combing out process under which nearly 150,000 persons were expelled for various reasons. New rules for admission of new members to the party, just adopted by the 11th All-Russian Communist Congress, make it exceedingly difficult for any persons, even the working men themselves, to enter it.

Three categories of candidates are provided. The first, including actual workers and Red army soldiers who are of "workmen's origin" may enter the party by decision of local committees upon the recommendation of three members of three years' party experience, but must serve a period of six months probation before being allowed to participate actively in party affairs.

The candidates from the second category, peasants and small shop or home workers who do not themselves exploit the labor of others, are admitted on the same general condition, providing the district party committee approve of them and they serve one year of probation.

The third category, including other persons, even those who have previously been members of other parties, must receive the recommendation of five members of five years' standing, be approved by the district committee, and serve two years' probation.

As all of the very high posts in the Russian government are held by Communists and most of the more important subordinate positions are given only to party men, the provisions of this last category would serve to bar other persons, even those desiring now to enter the party, from participation in the upper circles of the government.

Persons joining the Communist party must bind themselves to observe strict discipline and to model their personal lives along Communist idealistic principles. They must forego religious faith, promise not to drink in public places and to be extremely moderate in consumption of any intoxicants anywhere. They are not to amass wealth, nor to exploit the labor of others.

WHAT THE OLD GERMAN MARK USED TO BUY

Was Worth a Basketfull of "Eats," Now it Buys One Onion

Berlin, May 24.—Problems which face German housewives today are illustrated by a comparative table published in a weekly paper devoted to the interests of civil servants. The table shows what could be bought for sums ranging from one to 1,000 marks in 1914 and at the present time in paper currency.

One silver pre-war mark would fill a market basket and it would buy a pound of flour, a pound of sugar, one pound of salt five pounds of potatoes, two plants of milk, an egg and a herring.

The paper mark of today buys just one onion. For three marks in 1914 one could buy 100 pounds of potatoes; today three-quarters of a pound of potatoes if they are obtainable at all.

Seven "to mark" marks was the price of a dusting cloth. Now it is the price of a dusting cloth.

In 1914 a 300-pound pig fetched 100 marks. Today, one pays the same amount for two pounds of bacon.

Three hundred marks used to be a fair average monthly salary. Now one pays that much for two pounds of poor butter.

A four-room apartment could be rented eight years ago for 1,000 marks; now it is the price of a plain kitchen dresser (cabinet).

The high cost of living affects all German towns. Municipal statistics show that while in Berlin the prime necessities of life are 220 times the pre-war prices, in Bremen, Karlsruhe, Loubeck, Ludwigshafen and Schwerin they cost 250 as much and at Worms and Fulda more than 300 times as much as just before the war.

COURT RULES ON SUPPLIES BID

The supreme court, in an opinion written by Justice Brown, holds that it is not mandatory but is discretionary with the county auditor as to whether he shall ask for competitive bids for election supplies. The case was brought before the court in the case of the Bismarck Tribune Company against F. C. Johnson, auditor of Burleigh county. The Tribune asserted that under the general statute providing bids must be accepted on county work involving $300 or more bids must be sought on election supplies. The defendant maintained the county auditor alone was charged with the duty of purchasing election supplies and could do so without competitive bid.

Steno doubtless will be taken at the next session of the legislature to remedy the defect in the law which lets down the bars to graft.

DRYS WARNED OF ATTACKS

Wayne B. Wheeler Says That Wisconsin Will be Storm Center

Milwaukee, May 24.—Wisconsin will be the storm center for an attack upon prohibition this year, Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Wisconsin anti-saloon league, told delegates at the second day meeting of the Wisconsin law enforcement convention. New Jersey, Ohio, Massachusetts and California, he declared, will also receive strong attacks from the "wets." In speaking of the wet position on light wines and beer Dr. Wheeler said, "they will ask for light beer today, strong beer tomorrow, whiskey will follow and the debauchery which comes from the traffic will be inevitable."

GUARD BODY IS INSPECTED HERE

The quartermaster detachment of the National Guard was inspected here by Capt. G. A. M. Anderson, U. S. A. The inspection was held in the temporary armory of Company A in the basement of the Baker building. There are 19 men in the detachment and as a 10 per cent overage is allowed two more men may join it and go to the encampment at Devils Lake. Lieut. Neoy F. Thorlason is in charge of the detachment. The members are: Donald L. Berthoff, John H. Bowers, Emmanuel P. Brown, Paul M. Halloran, Terrence H. Halloran, Frank C. Hubbert, Oliver Knutson, Roy Kontz, Vincent M. LaFrance, N. # STUDENTS GET ROTARY PRIZES FOR BEST WORK

Efforts in History and Economics Are Rewarded by Members of Local Club

Work which the Rotary club sponsors among the boys and girls of the city was accentuated in the program given this noon at the weekly luncheon in Rotary headquarters at the McKenzie Hotel. Prizes were awarded to three girls and one boy for the best work in American history and economics. The students were guests of honor at the luncheon as well as the members of the school board and Miss Elizabeth Jones, instructor at the High School and Prof. De Bolt.

Those winning prizes in history and economics were: Misses Nydia Smith, Gladys Nees and Grace Cook. Louis Grambs was the other successful prize winner. George Will and Governor Nestos presented the prizes, which were copies of Hagedorn's "Roosevelt in the Bad Lands" and "The Americanization of Edward Bok."

Mr. Will drew attention to the appropriateness of Mr. Hagedorn's work. Mr. Hagedorn was commissioned by the Roosevelt Memorial Association to write this book and he spent some time in this section of the state interviewing people who knew of Roosevelt's career here. Mr. Will assisted in gathering data for this work.

Gov. Nestos in presenting the winners with copies of Bok's interesting work stressed the benefits of American citizenship and said that he had sensed the gratification that foreign born citizens have when they realize the great opportunities that this nation affords its adopted citizens. He told feelingly the inspiration that Job had upon returning to his native land when the sight of the American flag fired him with pride in his American citizenship.

The response was given by Miss Nydia Smith and Master Grambs who thanked the Rotary club members for their interest in the school work. The students paid a high tribute to their teacher, Miss Jones, who together with Prof. De Bolt added words of appreciation to the interest shown in school work by the Rotarians.

Miss Jones declared that she was not unduly alarmed at the fear expressed concerning the welfare of the young people. She declared that if there was anything really seriously wrong the home was largely to blame and it was there that the first steps toward reformation should be taken. Members of the school board present in addition to those who are Rotarians were E. V. Lahr and A. P. Lenhart.

General E. A. William made a forceful speech appealing to Rotarians to get behind the irrigation Congress to be held at Bismarck June 7-8. He spoke about the movement started in the southern states which suffer from flood conditions on the upper Mississippi and Missouri to control these flood waters to their source which would be in Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana. This he declared was a step of the right direction. He was given an enthusiastic reception.

Clint Draper who is making artists out of Elks for the big minstrel show was a guest of honor as was also E. H. Carpenter of the Carpenter Lumber company. J. J. MacLeod gave out the assignments for the big boys athletic meet next Friday afternoon at the baseball park. Fathers mothers and sisters of the contestants are urged to turn out and encourage the boys in their work of physical betterment.

The Rotary luncheon date has been changed from Wednesday at 12:30 p. m. to Monday at 12:15 p. m.

HUDSON-ESSEX EXPORTS GROW

Export orders from various parts of the world still continue to grow in volume for the Hudson Motor Car Company and Essex Motors, declares O. H. Williams, export manager for the two companies, who recently concluded a trip through Cuba and Mexico and to export firms along the Atlantic Coast. Both companies are finding it impossible to offer immediate deliveries.

"European business hitherto slow, is picking up briskly and orders are booked up for some time to come," says Mr. Williams. "England, for the first time, is ordering closed cars in surprising volume. Shipments have been resumed to the Northern European countries including Denmark, Norway and Sweden. Canadian business is becoming especially good."

ONE OF THE REASONS WHY WE SHOULD WEAR RED POPPIES MEMORIAL DAY

I HAVE A RENDEZVOUS WITH DEATH

I have a rendezvous with death
At some disputed barricade,
When Spring comes back with rustling shade
And apple-blossoms fill the air—
I have a rendezvous with death
When Spring brings back blue days and fair.

It may be he shall take my hand
And lead me into his dark land
And close my eyes and quench my breath—
It may be I shall pass him still,
I have a rendezvous with death
On some scarred slope of battered hill,
When Spring comes round again this year
And the first meadow-flowers appear.

God knows 'twere better to be deep
Pillowed in silk and scented down,
Where love throbs out in blissful sleep,
Pulse nigh to pulse and breath,
Where hushed awakenings are dear
But I've a rendezvous with Death
At midnight in some flaming town,
When Spring trips north again this year,
And I to my pledged word am true,
I shall not fail that rendezvous.

Young Alan Seeger, just out of Harvard College, had settled in Paris in the spring of 1912 for a brief space of literary effort there. Then came the fateful year of 1914. In the middle of July his father joined him abroad, to spend a week with his son in London. Two days earlier the Austrian Ultimatum had been presented to Serbia. The war was not three weeks old when, along with forty or fifty of his fellow Americans, he enlisted in the Foreign Legion of France.

On July 1st the great advance began. At six in the evening of July 4th the Legion was ordered to clear the enemy out of the village Belleau-en-Santerre. Alan Seeger advanced in the first rush. Most of them went down and Alan among them—wounded in several places. As his comrades left him behind they heard him singing a marching song in English "Accents of ours were in the fierce Melee." They took the village and drove the invaders out. For some unknown reason the battlefield was left unvisited that night. Next morning Alan Seeger lay dead.

He wrote his own best epitaph in the "Ode."

"And on those furthest rims of hal-low ground
Where the forlorn, the gallant charge expires,
When the slain bugler has long ceased to sound,
And on the tangled wires

Foley's Honey and Tar COMPOUND

CLEARs THE THROAT of phlegm and mucus, stops that tickling, opens the air passages for easier breathing and coats the raw, inflamed surfaces with a healing, soothing medicine.

Grateful Father Tells What It Did
W. E. Curry, 130 Up 9th St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "I have a little girl 6 years who has had a cold of trouble with croup. I have used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, giving it to her according to directions, and obtaining instant relief for her. My wife and I owe it wherever bothered with a bad cold or cough, and I will say that it is the best remedy for a bad cold, cough, throat trouble or croup that I ever saw."

Parents who use Foley's Honey and Tar know it is safe and no harm will come even if an overdose should be given by accident. It tastes good and children like it. It won't upset the delicate stomachs of young children, delicate persons or elderly people.

BLOOM MAILED HIS OATH, IS COURT'S RULE

Judge Nuesse Indicates Probable Finding of Facts in Fish Commissioner's Case

QUESTION OF REMOVAL

Case Will Be Decided on Questions of Law, Each Side to Submit Authorities

The claim of John H. Bloom to the office of fish and game commissioner, which was declared vacant by Governor Nestos, will be decided upon questions of law, it was indicated by District Judge W. L. Nuesse at the conclusion of the hearing in district court here. Judge Nuesse asked attorneys for both sides to present citation of authorities as quickly as possible, indicating his desire to make an early decision because of press of other business.

Judge Nuesse outlined a tentative finding of facts in the case. He said his tentative finding was that Bloom was appointed fish and game commissioner by former Governor Frazier in April, 1921, that within a short time thereafter he made out and mailed his oath of office from Devils Lake, that such oath of office was not received by the secretary of state, that Bloom acted as fish and game commissioner following his appointment, that Governor Nestos had requested Bloom's resignation, that thereafter the office vacant and appointed or attempted to appoint Elmer Judd to the position, that Judd qualified and Bloom declined to give up the office.

The question in the case appeared to be, Judge Nuesse said, a question of law as to whether Mr. Bloom, having mailed his oath of office, was qualified if the secretary of state did not receive it.

The office was declared forfeited by Governor Nestos on the ground that Bloom had not qualified within ten days after his appointment, as provided by statute.

Witnesses Called. Secretary of State Hall and Deputy Secretary M. W. Duffy testified that the oath of office had not been received. They said it was possible that mail addressed to the office might be lost in some manner.

Bloom's chief witnesses were himself and Nelson A. Mason, former secretary to Frazier. Mason said that he recalled that Bloom wrote him a letter after his appointment and asked for a blank oath of office and that he mailed one to Bloom.

Cross-examined by Attorney General Johnson, Mr. Mason said he did not think a copy of Mr. Bloom's letter or his letter to Mr. Bloom was on file. He said that if it were written by him and filed it probably would have been in his personal file, but that it was not there.

Asked by Mr. Johnson when he first recalled the circumstance of Bloom's letter he said it was when Bloom spoke to him the day before the matter was on trial here a few weeks ago.

Says Oath Mailed. Mr. Bloom asserted he made out the oath of office in Devils Lake, swore to it and mailed it in the post office to the secretary of state. He said he swore before John C. Adams, Mr. Bloom's attorney was Judge

W. S. Lauder, of Wahpeton; P. D. Norton, of Mandan, and William Langer, of Bismarck.

Deputy Secretary of State Duffy was questioned at length by the attorneys for Mr. Bloom after Attorney General Johnson had questioned him concerning Bloom's oath and was informed it was not on file. Judge Lauder questioned Mr. Duffy as to the possibility of mail being lost, and was informed that mail had been lost but that the witness could not recall specific instances. Mail sometimes is delivered to the wrong department in the state house, he said.

Secretary of State Hall, on the stand, said that occasionally a piece of mail might be lost. He said he thought this might happen three or four times a year.

Mr. Bloom's attorneys were seeking to establish that the fact that Bloom's oath was not on file did not indicate that it had not been mailed to the secretary of state.

HE KNOWS WHEREOF HE SPEAK

J. F. Harper, 416 Navarre St., San Antonio, Texas, writes: "I consider Foley's Honey and Tar absolutely the best cough remedy on the market. I know whereof I speak, having tried it in my own family. My wife took a severe cough and at night it was almost incessant. I gave her a few doses of Foley's Honey and Tar. In a little while she went to sleep and slept soundly the entire night. Your remedy acts quickly and relief is permanent."

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Notice is hereby given, that certain mortgage, executed and delivered by Frederick G. B. Bolter and Elizabeth E. Bolter, his wife, mortgagors to Walter L. Williamson, mortgagee, dated July 28th, 1910, and filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds of Burleigh County, North Dakota, December 19th, 1910, and thereafter recorded in Book "38" of Mortgages on page 187, and which mortgage was thereafter assigned, by an instrument in writing executed and delivered by the said Walter L. Williamson said mortgagee to Archibald King, which assignment is dated August 12th, 1910, and was filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds of Burleigh County, North Dakota, December 19th, 1910, and thereafter recorded in Book "38" of Mortgages at page 636, and which mortgage is now long past due and unpaid, will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises in such mortgage and hereinafter described, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Bismarck, Burleigh County, North Dakota, on the 6th day of July, 1922, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to satisfy the amount due on said mortgage on the day of sale, including costs, disbursements and attorneys fees.

That default has been made in the terms and conditions of such mortgage in this, that said mortgagors have failed to pay the interest and principal of said mortgage when due.

That Notice Before Foreclosure has been given to the title owner of record of said mortgaged premises, within the time and in the manner provided by law.

That the premises described in such mortgage and which will be sold to satisfy the same are described, as follows, to-wit:

WALTER HAMPDEN

Walter Hampden, whose performance in great roles have won such enthusiastic approval in New York and throughout the east that he has been called "the greatest Hamlet since Edwin Booth," a "more impressive Shylock than Henry Irving" and "the greatest Macbeth of the generation," will appear at the Auditorium in "The Servant in the House" Friday evening.

There has been no American actor in the past decade who has won such unstinted praise from the critics and public for Shakespearean interpretations. Interpretations that "palpitate and quiver with vitality and life," and make these old masterpieces thrilling and entertaining.

To quote Clayton Hamilton, the noted critic: "Walter Hampden is not only a great actor—a great artist—he is also a great man; and the appearance of such a personage upon the local stage will be welcomed as an event by the multitudinous lovers of the beautiful."

VOTE ON OFFICERS.

BURGLAR IS CAUGHT IN ACT BY BEULAH MAN

Beulah, N. D., May 25.—Dan Hall, Beulah druggist, lying in wait, caught a burglar in the act of entering his store, and pointing a gun at him, obtained his instant surrender. The man gave his name as Dan Quast.

According to John Moses, state's attorney of Mercer county, Quast not only confessed to attempting to enter the Hall drugstore but confessed to burglarizing the poolhall and a store at Stanton, the Beulah drugstore (on a previous occasion), and two other Beulah stores, and a store at Golden Valley. He says Quast asked that he be permitted to plead guilty in district court and take his medicine.

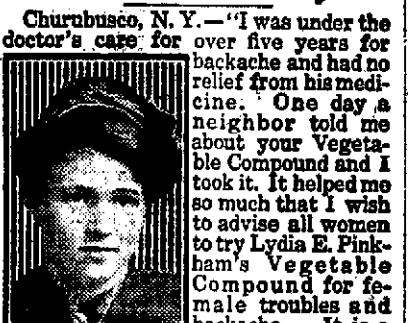

Quast, according to Mr. Moses, said he had come to Beulah about three months ago to work in the coal mine. In all the robberies in this section, the burglar bored holes around the locks of doors and pulled the locks out. Mr. Hall says he noticed Quast in town, and remembered he had been in Beulah when his store was first robbed. He says Quast appeared about midnight with a gun and flashlight and began work on the door.

SUCCEEDS WHERE DOCTORS FAIL

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Often Does That.—Read Mrs. Miner's Testimony

Chubbuck, N. Y.—"I was under the doctor's care for over five years for backache and had no relief from his medicine. One day a neighbor told me about your Vegetable Compound and I took it. It helped me so much that I wish to advise all women to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles and backache. It is a great help in carrying a child, as I have noticed a difference when I didn't take it. I thank you for this medicine and if I ever come to this point again I do not want to be without the Vegetable Compound. I give you permission to publish this letter so that all women can take my advice."—Mrs. FRED MINER, Box 102, Chubbuck, N. Y.

It's the same story over again. Women suffer from ailments for years. They try doctors and different medicines, but feel no better. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you can see its value in the case of Mrs. Miner. That's the truth of the matter. If you are suffering from any of the troubles women have, you ought to try this medicine. It can be taken in safety by young or old, as it contains no harmful drugs.

Quality and Satisfaction

The American public has learned to seek a high quality in merchandise. Value is the important consideration in every purchase; a low price is not proof of good value. Purchasers are carefully weighing qualities against price in an effort to establish the intrinsic worth of merchandise, and thus to judge its true value.

From its inception, Harris-Robertson's have accepted responsibility for the quality of merchandise it sells. This specialized shop is constantly searching for better materials and methods; it has established a New York office which is ever on the qui vive for the new and good. It spares no effort to market the very best merchandise.

The satisfaction of its customers is this shop's highest goal.

SWEDEN WANTS TO GET 'CLOSER' TO THE U. S.

Prime Mover in The Swedish Campaign For This Purpose Is R. A. Nordvall

Stockholm, May 25.—The conscious drive to develop closer and more friendly relations between Sweden and the United States was emphasized at the celebration here on the anniversary of the Sweden-America Foundation when 200 Americans and Swedes exchanged felicitations upon the progress made in this movement. Efforts to make Americans and Swedes better acquainted with one another have been in progress for three years and now are about to culminate in the establishment of the high-power radio station on the west coast of Sweden by which direct communication with America will be attained for the first time in history. The Sweden-America Foundation led the movement for the construction of this station but its main function is to promote the exchange of scholarships between the two countries.

To show how the two countries are being brought closer together it was pointed out at the celebration that 13 Swedish students will spend this academic year in American institutions of learning while 10 American students will study in Sweden.

Attention was also called to the increased accommodation for travel between Sweden and America which will be provided by the addition of another big passenger vessel to a line plying directly between Swedish and American ports.

American motion pictures are more popular in Sweden than are those of any other country except Sweden itself while Swedish films which only a few years ago were unknown in the United States are now said to be gaining popularity there.

Scientists Visiting the U. S. Swedish scientists of note, especially astronomers, are visiting the United States for original research and those who have returned gave unstinted praise to American educational institutions.

Professor Theodore Svedberg of Upsala University, a famous Swedish chemist is going to the University of Wisconsin this year to do research work with American scientists in the field of colloid chemistry.

One of America's religious leaders, the Rev. Dr. Frederick Lynch, of New York, is delivering lectures in Sweden. Next year Archbishop Nathan Soderblom, head of the Swedish church, will visit America.

American industrial leaders recently have visited Sweden to survey its industrial plants and hardly a week passes without a departure of some well-known Swedish business leader for the United States to study commercial conditions and buy and sell in the American market.

The prime mover in the Swedish campaign to get together with the United States is R. A. Nordvall, High Commissioner to the United States during the war. Professor Svante Arrhenius, one of Sweden's well-known scientists, was elected president of the Sweden-America Foundation which will continue its program for cultivating cordial relationship and cooperation between America and Sweden.

Irrigation Meet May Be Addressed By Mrs. Winters

Women of North Dakota have asked Mrs. T. W. Winters of Minneapolis, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, to be one of the speakers at the irrigation conference to be held in Bismarck, June 7 and 8. This invitation was the first work of a combined committee of women of Bismarck and Mandan who will take their place as a part of the organization of the conference machinery.

The appointment of the committee is in recognition of the fact that so voters, the women are interested in the action of the congressmen and senators of the large number of the states in the Missouri, Ohio and Mississippi territories who must be looked to for the success of a movement of reclamation or conservation of the waters that are now destroying the farm lands of the lower Mississippi territory.

SCHOOL NURSES NEEDED

Representatives of the Children's Bureau of Washington, investigating conditions in North Dakota for the Children's Code Commission, that the latter body may make recommendations of changes and improvements in the state laws regarding children are comparing the conditions they find in North Dakota with the accepted child welfare standards. One of the workers is known to have been enthusiastic over the conditions she found in one of the counties of the state, but only the final report will determine what the general average of the state is considered to be.

A statement of the minimum protection to which children are entitled is found in the standards agreed upon by the National Welfare conference called in Washington by the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor in 1919. This statement included minimum standards for children entering employment, for the public protection of the health of mothers and children, etc. The standards for the protection of the health of school children are based upon principles which may be summarized as follows:

Parents and teachers, as well as children, should be educated in health and hygiene, so that they will be able to give full cooperation in a general health program.

The services of a school nurse should be available in all school districts, the nurse to give instruction and advice in hygiene and diet, in the school and in the home. School children should receive a complete physical examination by a doctor at least once a year, with recommendation of the treatment which they need for defects, deformities, or malnutrition. Clinics for needed treatment should be available. Records of physical condition should be kept along with other school records.

Special Classes Needed. For children with mental defect or with certain physical defects special classes should be provided, where they may receive instruction suited to their needs and abilities. Pretuberculous children and those with serious malnutrition need open-air classes with rest periods and supplementary feedings.

School buildings should be properly located and constructed, with attention to hygiene, ventilation, and sanitation, and adequate room space to prevent overcrowding.

All children should be educated in health habits, with supervision and in-

Pick a Cool Place for the Baby to Nap In

JUST CLIMBING IN

BY MRS. MAX WEST.
Late of the United States Children's Bureau.

Next to the problems of feeding, the question of how to make the baby comfortable while he sleeps is the most puzzling of all hot weather problems in the daily care of the baby. The coolest place in the house should be found for the day-time naps. This will usually be somewhere on the first floor, rather than in an upstairs bedroom. Quite often in the worst weather a pallet on the floor of the living room will afford more comfort than any bed, but this selection of the best place for the baby to sleep is one of those matters in which the judgment of the mother must be exercised.

The baby should be completely undressed when he takes his nap. A very thin cotton gown, open at the neck and short-sleeved, is perhaps the best garment to wear, at least for the older baby. A tiny baby can usually be made comfortable in crib or carriage, and if he naps in his carriage it can easily be moved about in search of the coolest spot.

Sleeping rooms are so hot in the early part of the night that it may be best to keep the baby out doors mittees last evening plans were made to have the furnishings for the house, the dishes, silver and linen of uniform pattern, and club members who are donating articles are asked to get in touch with the secretary.

GIVES MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

in the evening until the rooms have cooled somewhat, or put him to sleep in the porch, if here he can be protected from mosquitoes.

The main thing is to see that in the course of the twenty-four hours the baby has the necessary number of hours of sleep, even if the usual schedule has to be somewhat disturbed.

A bath in tepid water just before going to bed will help cool the skin and make the baby fall asleep more readily. No soap should be used, and the flesh should be patted gently to dry it, not rubbed. A little powder may be sifted into the groin and under the arms and into the folds of the skin around the neck, but too much powder only makes the irritation worse.

If the baby awakens because he is hot and uncomfortable, a fresh nightgown and a drink of water will usually be all that is needed to send him quietly to sleep again. Out-door sleeping porches are a boon to the mother of a young family.

Screened and protected, they will afford the baby the opportunity for sound refreshing sleep, even in the hottest weather, for at least some portion of the day and night.

Ths Week's Beauty Help

It is not necessary to shampoo your hair so frequently if it is entirely and properly cleansed each time by the use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers is one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair and may be enjoyed at very little expense, by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox, which can be obtained from any druggist's, in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just to the top of the head. This, when rubbed into the scalp and onto every strand of hair, chemically dissolves all impurities. It is very soothing and cooling in its action, as well as beneficial to both scalp and hair. After rinsing out the lather so created, you will find the scalp is fresh, clean and free from dandruff, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright luster and soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.

Who Are the 5 Great Ball Players?

Boys, here's a new one. See the funny sentences in the picture. They are the names of Five Big League Ball Players with the letters of their names re-arranged. Can you straighten out the letters to spell their names correctly? If you can, it will be easy for you to win a real Culver Racer Automobile or $250 in cash.

Start right in. The first name is—well, I'm sure you can guess. Yes—it's Bambino Ruth, the mighty "Sabe," king of the home run hitters. Put that down on your list and it will be easy to get the rest. Just to help refresh your memory, I am naming some of the star players: Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Bambino Ruth, George Sisler, Carl Mayes, Ray Schalk, Roger Hornsby and Waite Hoyt.

135 Points Wins First Prize

If you can correctly re-arrange the five names of the baseball players I'll give you 135 points toward winning the $250 prize or the Culver Auto. You will gain 25 more points by proving that you have shown a copy of The Rural Weekly to three of your friends. This will give you 160 points in all. The final 10 points will be awarded by the judges of the puzzle to the boy who sends in the largest correct list of words made up from the letters in the name of the Home Run King—Bambino Ruth.

Send in your name of the five ball players and your list of words together. Send them in NOW.

In making up your list of words from the name "Bambino Ruth," only letters that appear in his name can be used. A letter can be used in a single word only as many times as it appears in the name of the ballplayer. Only words found in Webster's dictionary can be counted. Abbreviations, proper nouns, profane, vulgar, obscene and foreign words can not be counted. Words spelled as they are but with different definitions can only be counted as one word. Do you just looking at the name "Bambino Ruth" you can see such words as "am," "ban," "ban," "ban," "ban," etc.

The winning answer, or the one earning 135 points will receive $250 in cash or the Culver Racer. There are 10 Big Prizes, and in case of a tie each trying contestant will receive identical prizes.

Everybody Wins a Prize

Remember, boys, you don't have to spend one penny of your own money to win, and everybody who helps boost The Rural Weekly wins a Special Prize. You can win one. All you need to do is introduce The Rural Weekly to three of your friends; but first send your answer to the puzzle, and if it is correct, I'll give you 135 points. Then I'll show you how easy it is to gain the other 25 points necessary to win the $250 prize or the Culver Auto.

Write the names of the five ball players correctly on a piece of paper, and send it in right away with your list of words. July 5th is the last day to send your answer. HURRY!

UNCLE BILL, Baseball Dept. 95, 92 East Fourth St., St. Paul, Minn.

ORIENTAL LUXURIES
In shop windows and stores we see many luxuries that make us sigh because we cannot afford them.

Most of us are millionaires at heart. That is the chief reason we have millionaires. They are the creations of the composite of national thought and desire.

It also is the reason why luxuries fascinate us, make us pack the movie theater where a film shows expensive gowns, jewels, costly furnishings and other trappings of luxury.

A desert sheik is fascinating because of his luxurious life—particularly the luxury of summoning a regiment of kowtowing servants by the mere clapping of a hand.

The best that the movies can do, in picturing luxury, is tame compared with the genuine luxuries of the ancient Orient.

For instance, Abulfeda—the reporter-historian of Damascus 1000 years ago—wrote this description of the Caliph Moktader's court in Bagdad:

"Near his state officers were 7000 eunuchs. The porters and doorkeepers were in number 700. Barges and boats with the most superb decorations were seen floating upon the Tigris. Nor was the palace itself less splendid, in which were hung up 33,000 pieces of tapestry, 12,500 of which were of silk embroidered with gold. The carpets on the floor were 22,000. A hundred lions were brought out with a keeper to each.

"Among the other spectacles of rare and stupendous luxury was a tree of gold and silver, spreading into 18 larger branches, on which, and on the lesser boughs, sat a variety of birds made of the same precious metals, as well as the leaves of the tree. The birds warbled their natural harmony, each in its own strains, the whole being affected by the spontaneous motions of machinery."

Emperor Shih Huang Ti, builder of the Chinese Wall, had a gorgeous palace of 1001 rooms, also a large bathing pool filled with the oldest of fine and expensive wines.

Compared with those ancient days, the modern world does not know what luxury is.

And that is a mighty good thing. For the luxury of the ancients was enjoyed only by a few, supported by millions of slaves who toiled under the lash until they were exhausted and allowed to recuperate in sleep like over-worked horses and oxen.

Luxury has vanished. So, too, for the most part, has human slavery.

OPPORTUNITY
China has less than 100 movie theaters, reports Lynn W. Meekins, movie export-expert. Admission averages 30 cents, of American money. No movie theaters have been built there for five years. But the Chinese are almost as crazy over movies as they are over phonographs.
Gigantic opportunity there for our film exporters. China, with enormous undeveloped natural wealth, holds similar opportunities for nearly every other industry.
The Orient is our coming export market. It will eclipse Europe as a buyer of American goods.

CHINESE MOVIES
Chinese movie fans are keenest for Wild West films. This is reported by Lynn W. Meekins, foreign-trade scout for American movie magnates.
Oriental theatrical taste, says he, runs to blood-and-thunder—though the Chinese are the most peaceful people on earth, despite occasional uprisings against bandit "war lords" and enemies of the Chinese Republic.
You understand the psychology of that. It's like the mild, meek man who dotes on red-blooded adventure stories. Most of us worship our opposites.

POORHOUSES
Abolish the poorhouse by pensioning the aged. That is the slogan of Judge Thomas O'Donnell of Kansas City.
No one with a heart can oppose him. Great Britain, France and New Zealand have old-age pensions, following the new trail blazed by Denmark in 1891.
Unfortunately, that anyone ever needs a pension in old age. For ones who do, it should be provided.
You like, of course, both sides to a question.

The other side to this is that paternalism destroys initiative and the incentive to thrift. As always, the best system would be a happy medium, providing for the aged unlucky, but not enough to tempt the majority to stop saving to provide for themselves.

PERMANENT
German government reports it is making rapid progress at erasing all traces of Hohenzollern royalty.
Chisel and paint brush are removing coats-of-arms and other imperial trade-marks from public buildings and offices. Even the postage stamps are being changed.
In a quiet way, this demonstrates a German desire and intention to remain republican. It is like giving away the clothing of the "dear departed." Of especial interest to people who fear that Germany is shadow-boxing and deep in her heart longs for the return of the Hohenzollerns.

WOODSHED
Mrs. Mildred Brandt, newly elected police magistrate, announces she will hold court in her parlor at home, "to take less time from my domestic duties." This is at Winslow, Ill.

While a parlor may not look as impressive as a dusty courtroom, it is in the home, the original and greatest agency of law and order. For the most part, courtrooms exist to rectify and punish mistakes of early home training.

Many a man looks back to a youthful session in the woodshed, with father's shingle, as his shifting into the path of righteousness. Best when taken in moderate doses.

GAMBLING
A seat on the New York Stock Exchange sells for $95,000. This is within $15,000 of the highest price paid for the right to do business on the exchange during the great speculative movement of 1920. It is $40,000 more than the record of 1914, a bad business year.

Wall Street farmers apparently are betting on a big crop of speculators.

They are safe in making the bet, now that prosperity is returning and everyone is due to have more money, which burns a hole in nearly every pocket.

EDITORIAL REVIEW
Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

HARNESSING THE MISSOURI
For years the project of utilizing the water of the Missouri river for power purposes and to irrigate parts of the Slope country where rainfall is insufficient, has been a pleasant dream.
Theorists have played with the idea and pictured the possibilities of it, but virtually nothing has been done toward putting it into effect. It has been regarded as a visionary scheme which might become a reality in some future generation when immense sums of money were available for it.

But North Dakotans are just beginning to awaken to the fact that money is available for it—$34,000,000 to get down to figures—and that the scheme is not a beautiful dream but something that may become a reality in the very near future if sufficient energy is put into the organization work.

Next month an irrigation congress will be held at Bismarck to consider the situation. Here, in brief, are the facts in the case:

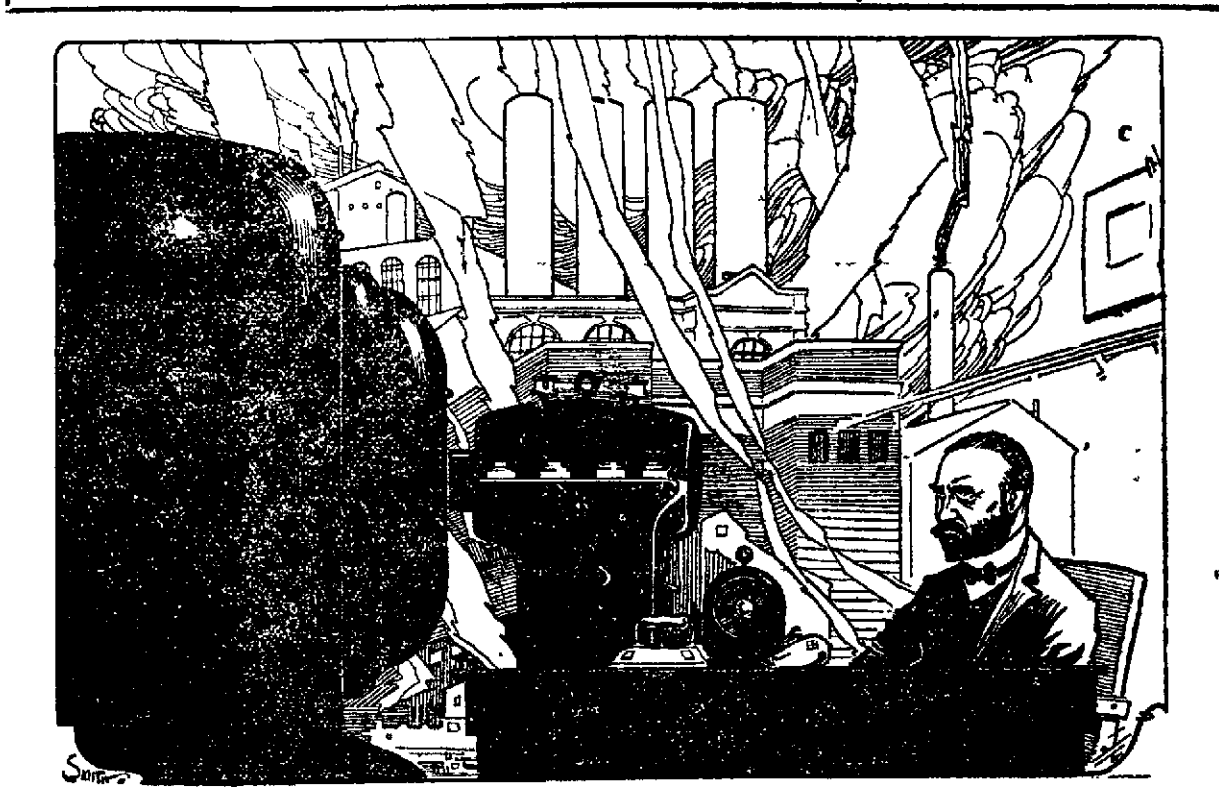

The federal government now owns 1,000,000 belonging to the States of North and South Dakota and Montana. This sum has been derived from the sale of public lands and is set aside for irrigation or drainage work. It cannot be spent for any other purpose, but is available for some comprehensive and feasible plan.
Engineers who have studied the Missouri river are convinced that its waters can be harnessed and used for both power and irrigation through the construction of dams and reservoirs.
The surplus water would make fertile hundreds of thousands of acres of land which is now of very doubtful value, and it would be an immense source of supply for cheap power throughout the western half of North Dakota.

And not the least important feature is the fact that these three states will not only find no opposition from all the other states bordering the Missouri and Mississippi, but will have their hearty co-operation. The levee system for controlling floods has proved insufficient. Every spring disastrous floods occur along the Mississippi, and cause losses running into millions of dollars, and southern engineers are now convinced that the whole policy of flood control as followed for nearly a century, has been wrong, and that flood control should begin at the source. The place to prevent floods in Louisiana is in North Dakota and Montana and the upper part of the Ohio river. If the flood waters are harnessed and stored there, the levees in the south will be sufficient to prevent damage.

For that reason, the southern states will be found heartily supporting any move to put into effect a comprehensive irrigation plan for the upper Missouri.

The possibilities of this irrigation congress should be self-evident from these facts. It may mark the launching of one of the most important projects in the history of the development of the state.—Fargo Forum.

"Hugo, First" Locks Industries In Huge Combine Until Year 2000

BY MILTON BRONNER
European Manager for NEA Service

Berlin, May 25.—One afternoon Hugo Stinnes, the business colossus of Germany, en route from his home in Mulheim to Berlin spent the time on the train reading his favorite light literature—the financial reports of big German corporations.
The one he had in his hand was that of the Siemens and Halske Schuckert concern. It is one of the two great industrial electrical trusts of Germany. Its history is the typical German one of law protected and approved successful combination of big successful corporations into a super business. In this it resembles the manner in which Stinnes himself combined all his various coal and iron enterprises with those of others and brought into being the vast Rhine-Ruhr Union.
"Hummel!" Stinnes is reported to have said to his secretary after looking over the figures of the electrical trust's report. "Those people use a vast lot of coal, iron and steel in a year's time. And they can't ever be sure of their supply. Why not build a new combination, a trust of trusts, bigger than anything Germany has ever seen?"

He Acts Quickly
With Stinnes to think to dream, is to act. He got into touch with the electrical concern. He showed them how his coal and iron and steel, added to their technical skill and inventions and patents, would make a more successful business than before.
It was not long before he brought about a combining of the Rhine-Ruhr Union and the Siemens and Halske Schuckert concern. It is known as the Siemens-Schuckert-Rhine-Ruhr Union. It is so big it makes one dizzy to contemplate its size and its multifarious activities. It has a capitalization of about a billion marks. And it does very little if any water in this.

Therein it differs from our gigantic trusts. This German capitalization is honestly represented by actual properties in superabundance. The agreement Stinnes drew up locks these united concerns together until the year 2000, all of which shows that Stinnes is building for a long time ahead, for a time when he hopes Stinnes' grandsons will be industrial princes in a Germany that will more than have fully recovered from her defeat in the great war.

In a previous article I outlined the many activities of the Rhine-Ruhr Union. The Siemens and Halske Schuckert concern, even before Stinnes stuck a finger in the pie, practically entered the life of every German. It built and controlled subways in Berlin and sold every kind of electric light globes. One could order from it a small electrical tool or a complete lighting and motor plant with the very latest thing in dynamos or turbines. If you wanted to shop for wireless telegraph outfit or telephone systems or any one of a hundred ingenious electrical devices this concern could and would deliver the goods.

It had grown great because of the genius of two men. There is as much a fairy story of business life as that of George Westinghouse or Thomas A. Edison in similar fields in America.

The Siemens concern, for instance, was founded by Werner Siemens in a one-room shop back of a residence in a poor little street in Berlin. He took in as a partner a mechanic named George Halske. From tinkering with tiny repair jobs, they pushed their business until to lay a deep-sea cable or construct the entire telegraph system for the vast Russian empire, was all in the year's work.

About the same time another electricalian started out for himself in Hamburg in southern Germany. This Bavarian founded the great business of Schuckert and Co.

And by and by the two businesses came together and became the Siemens-Schuckert Corporation.
The names of their underlying enterprises are legion. The Siemens wing has immense plants in Berlin, Hamburg, Bremen and Kiel. It owns a separate corporation which makes all kinds of electrical lamps and in its turn owns still other companies.

The Schuckert concern not only covered Bavaria, but had plants in Mannheim and Dessau. The combine owns subsidiary concerns in Paris, Barcelona and St. Petersburg and on the side operates a big automobile factory, a porcelain works, a steamship turbine plant and a cable manufacturing plant.

It has tremendous holdings in London and also in Switzerland.
Stinnes' Only Defeat
In fact, it is hard to go anywhere in Germany or in the neighboring countries without seeing some of the prop rities of this electrical trust. By bringing this huge corporation within his sphere of influence, Stinnes has not only made himself by all odds the biggest business man in Europe, if not in the world, but in the midst of his success has banded himself up against one of the few failures of his career.

It was his ambition to unite all the electrical interests of Germany into one all-embracing concern.

To do this it would have been necessary to bring in the far-famed A. F. G., which, as every German knows stands for the Allgemeines Elektrisches Gesellschaf. This is the company which was formed by Emil Rathenau and over which, until he went into politics, the son of the founder, Walter Rathenau, presided. Stinnes and Rathenau are sworn enemies and there are three reasons for this feud which enlivens German politics and business:

First—As stated, Rathenau and his friends would not agree to merge the A. F. G. in the Stinnes combine.

Second—Stinnes stands for a sort of benevolent despotism in his business relations with his workmen.

whereas Rathenau, while not an out and out Socialist, has a great many socialistic ideas as to the future relations between employer and employee.

Third—The two men are great capitalists of industry, clashed over the matter of German reparations to the allies. At the Spa conference Rathenau, then minister of reparations, favored Germany's acceptance of the obligations imposed by the allies. Stinnes wanted Germany to give a blunt "No." The Rathenau policy prevailed.

Later Rathenau went out of the cabinet for a time and then it was announced the chancellor was thinking of making him minister for foreign affairs. The Stinnes press and the Stinnes political party, the German People's Party, at once threw down the gauge of battle. But once more Rathenau won. At present there is an armed truce between the men and their great corporations. But people who know him and have watched Stinnes, are betting he is not through yet. Sooner or later they believe he will bring A. F. G. into some sort of business union with his super trust.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

Nancy and Nick followed Mr. Peerbout out of his ramshackle old house and along a path through the Silver Forest to the town of Snoozelium, where the Towles lived. The Towles were the dream fairies.
It was a very odd place—nothing at all like a dream. For dreams are quiet and beautiful—mostly—while this place was full of noise.
"What are they all doing?" asked Nancy curiously.
"Boiling dreams!" nodded old Peerbout approvingly.
The Twins watched one little Towless while he worked over a bright kettle. These were the things he put into it: A piece of beautiful silk, a few raindrops, some fresh flowers and a song.

Then he stirred it all up with a big spoon, bigger than himself. He flew around from one side to the other, singing a quaint little song and looking ever so happy.

At last he unhooked a sack from the wall of his house made of poppy leaves—the sack, not the house, and held it over the kettle. The steam from the kettle went up into it and he tied it up with a tendrill of a grape vine.

"That was a whole story the Towless stirred into the kettle," explained Mr. Peerbout. "A little girl wore a new silk dress to a party, it rained and she cried because her dress was spoiled.

"Then she saw some poor, dusty, faded flowers hold up their drooping heads to the rain and look so fresh and glad she forgot about her dress and began to sing.

"The Towless will slide down to earth on a moon-beam tonight, then, to a chimney and open his bag on some little girl's pillow. That's the way it's done."

TODAY'S WORD

Today's word is REPUDIATION. It's pronounced — re-pu-dia-shun, with accent on the second and fourth syllables.
It means—the act of casting off, of disowning, of disclaiming, of refusing to have anything to do with, or declining to acknowledge or pay.
It comes from—Latin, "repudiare," to repudiate or reject.
It's used like this—"Lloyd George, addressing persons or nations engaged in seeking loans, advises these applicants against catering, at the same time that they ask for credit into a discussion of the doctrine of repudiation of debts, remarking that while the doctrine "may be sound" the discussion, at such a moment, "is not diplomatic."

A THOUGHT

Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer. Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.—Revelation 2:10.
It is a proverbial saying, that every one makes his own destiny; and this is usually interpreted, that every one, by his own wise or unwise conduct, prepares good or evil for himself. But we may also understand it that whatever it be that he receives from the hand of Providence, he may so accommodate his life that he may find his lot good for him, however much may seem to others to be wanting.—William von Humbolt.

ALL IS READY FOR TRACK MEET

Big Event to be Held at Ball Park at 2 O'clock Tomorrow

All the boys and officials taking part in the Big Grade School Athletic Meet Friday afternoon are requested to meet at the Court House not later than 1:15 o'clock for roll call and grouping. It is very important that everyone be on hand early.

The competing boys are asked to come in athletic attire.

A photograph is to be taken of the officials and boys.

Parents and friends will assemble in the grandstand at the ball park at two o'clock.

The Knights of Columbus, it is announced, will donate 20 prizes for the contests for winners of first, second and third places, etc. and for each member of the winning relay team.

Children in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades of the public schools will be dismissed for the meet. Teachers will be in charge of them at the ball park.

TRACK MEET SEASON VERY CLOSE AT HAND

The season of the big track meets in the east and middle west is at hand. Saturday, May 27, will witness the competition in the Missouri Valley meet in the middle west and the eastern intercollegiate at the Harvard stadium. The eastern meet will have the added attraction of the track team of the University of California and Leland Stanford, the teams winning first and second in the meet a year ago.

The Missouri Valley will have as its special attraction the final competition between Everett Bradley of Kansas and Brutus Hamilton of Missouri for sectional honors. The three years battle between the men, who with LeGendre of Georgetown and Osborne of Illinois have met many times in the three years they have been in the number of points in certain to be small. The team is especially strong in the sprints.

The Eastern Intercollegiate will be a battle between the California teams and Pennsylvania, Cornell and possibly Princeton Yale and Harvard appear to be outclassed, and as Princeton won an overwhelming victory over the Crimson, it would appear to be the best possibility of the so-called Big Three. Pennsylvania has not made an exceptional showing since the days while Cornell has completed only with weaker teams.

Several of the small colleges seem to be certain to cut into the points. LeCom of Lafayette, LeGendre of Georgetown, Shields of Penn State, Thompson of Dartmouth and Woodring of Syracuse all seem to be possibilities of taking points from the Big Eastern schools and the Californians as well.

On dual meet records, Nebraska is the favorite, and the balance of the Cornhusker team would seem to make them favorites in a meet where four places count, and the winning number of points is certain to be small. The team is especially strong in the sprints.

HAIL WARRANTS WILL BE AT PAR FROM JUNE 1-15

North Dakota hail warrants will be at par from June 1 to June 15, according to the final announcement of John DeLong, who has represented the Minnesota Loan and Trust company in many of its negotiations here. Following the close of business June 15, the Minnesota company will end its purchase of hail warrants in the state, but for the first fifteen days of the month all warrants presented at the First National bank in Bismarck will be purchased at their face value.

The company purchased a little more than a million of the securities

LEWIS KNOCKED OUT BY CARPENTIER

The accompanying picture is the first received in this country of the finish of the fight in London on May 11, between Georges Carpentier, the light heavyweight champion, and Ted (Kid) Lewis, the European welterweight titleholder, who, going out of his class to meet the Frenchman, was knocked out before the end of the first round.

There were complaints of a foul and it is said the "movies" showed the referee to be holding Lewis' arm with one hand, and with the other pushing Carpentier out of a clinch, when the final blow was struck.

The referee's decision, however, was unqualifiedly in Georges' favor.

SUPREME COURT

FROM BARNES COUNTY
American Loan and Investment Company, a corporation, Plaintiff and Respondent vs. B. P. Borass, C. A. Steberg, C. D. Olson and Theodore T. Moen, Defendants and Appellants, and A. G. Bjerkén, Garnishee.

FROM BARNES COUNTY
American Loan and Investment Company, a corporation, Plaintiff and Respondent vs. B. P. Borass and C. D. Olson, Defendants and Appellants, and A. G. Bjerkén, Garnishee.

Syllabus:
1. The following language appeared in a written contract for deed: "Either party hereto who shall fail or refuse (except for imperfect title) to comply with the provisions of this contract on his part to be performed, shall forfeit or pay to the other party the sum of $2,000, which sum is hereby fixed and agreed upon as liquidated damages to be sustained by either party from failure or default on the part of the other."

"It is held defendants being in possession, exercising dominion over the land described in the contract, and also being in default are not in position to invoke this clause of the contract."

2. The vendor in a contract may maintain an action to recover against the vendee the amount of an unpaid due, and for all past due interest.

Appeal from the judgment of the District Court of Barnes County, M. J. Englert, Judge.

Opinion of the Court by Grace, C. J. Judgment Affirmed.

Mr. John O. Hanchett, Valley City, N. D. Attorney for Respondent.

Messrs. Combs & Ritchie, Valley City, N. D. Attorneys for Appellants.

FROM MERCER COUNTY
Carl Semmler and Susanna Semmler, Plaintiffs and Respondents, vs.

Syllabus:
1. Upon a conveyance by quitclaim of the right, title, and interest of a vendor in a land contract, the grantee therein secures all of the rights of the vendor including the right to enforce payment of the unpaid purchase price.

2. In a land contract containing independent covenants for the payment upon installments of purchase price and for the payment of taxes, the vendee upon failure to perform such independent covenants, is not in a position to avoid proceedings to enforce the breach of such covenants, upon the ground that the holder of the contract is then unable to convey title as required by the contract.

3. Where the assignee of the vendee's land contract, in an action to quiet title, asserts that proceedings in cancellation of the contract for failure to pay installments of the purchase price and taxes, are invalid because the assignee of the vendor can not convey title by warranty as required by the contract, it is held, for reasons stated in the opinion, that the assignee of such vendee, at the time of the cancellation proceedings, was not required by the contract to then be able so to perform.

Action in District Court, Mercer County, Pugh, J.

Defendants have appealed from a judgment in favor of the plaintiffs. Judgment reversed.

Opinion of the Court by Bronson, J. Grace, J. Dissenting.

Sullivan, Hanley & Sullivan, Mandan, N. D., Attorneys for Plaintiffs and Respondents.

Newton, Dullam & Young, Bismarck, N. D. for Appellants.

FROM TRAIL COUNTY
John Laibhouse, Plaintiff-Respondent, vs. Galoisburg State Bank, a corporation, Defendant-Appellant.

Syllabus:
1. No error can be predicated on the denial of a motion for a directed verdict made at the close of plaintiffs case, unless such motion is renewed at the close of all the evidence.

2. Errors assigned upon instructions, given and refused, and upon rulings on the admission of evidence, are considered found to be non-prejudicial.

From a judgment of the District Court of Trail County, Cole, J., defendant appeals.

Affirmed.

Opinion of the court by Christianson, J. Robinson, J., concurs in the result.

Bronson, J., specially concurs.

Grace, J., dissents in part and concurs in part.

I. A. Acker, of Hillsboro, N. D., for appellant.

FROM GRANT COUNTY
Johann Wuest and Emil Wuest, Plaintiffs and Respondents vs. C. E. Richmond and John Ryan, Defendants and Appellants.

Syllabus:
In an action for damages alleged to have been sustained by reason of the transfer by the defendants of a note obtained from plaintiffs by fraud and false representations, upon which the transferee had recovered a judgment against the plaintiffs, it is held:

1. The cause of action is not dependent upon the finality of the judgment against the plaintiffs nor upon its payment by them.

2. Where plaintiffs have not actu-

SOUTH AMERICA CATTLE BUYER VISITS CITY

W. R. Junker, of Buenos Aires, Argentina, South America, who is making a trip to the United States to purchase blooded stock for a big ranch in South America of which he is superintendent, is visiting in Bismarck for a few days. Mr. Junker was a stage-coach driver on the Oregon-California stage line in 1869 but has been in South America for 28 years.

Mr. Junker said he had purchased cattle in New York and Minnesota and is going to Spokane, Wash., from here.

Enthusiastic over the development of Argentina, Mr. Junker declares that most of the meat now eaten on the eastern seaboard of the United States comes from Argentina, because the great ranges have disappeared from the United States.

CORD TIRES

The section at the right was cut from new Cord of the same size. Careful measurements show that only 1/3 of the tread of the tire on the Yellow Cab has been worn away after this long, gruelling test. The carcass is intact after more than 11,000,000 revolutions.

Firestone Cords have averaged over 10,000 miles on Chicago Yellow Cabs (1,200 cabs all Firestone equipped). In thousands of instances, they have given from 15,000 to 30,000 miles.

Look at the tread—scientifically angled against skid, massive

This is the reason why Firestone Cords unfailingly deliver extraordinary mileage. It explains the unanimous demand of thoughtful tire buyers for these values. The local Firestone dealer will continue to provide the personal service that makes Firestone tire comfort and economy complete.
